

[SecAthon2025] Buy Alice Thing

Alice loves painting, but ironically, the product she likes is no longer sold at a local store. An opportunity has arisen: recently, hackers have frequently attacked the store's website. The store owner has promised to reward anyone who finds a vulnerability in their system. Naturally, they have many vulnerabilities, but your task is to help Alice express her desire to purchase the product that is no longer available for sale.

Visit /login page to experience the system.

Get your username and password from the picture 😞

Your task is to find the de-activated product, then make an order with three units of this product.

Check your flag by viewing the placed order you have just made.
