

[SecAthon2025] Basic Reverse Engineering

You are given an executable binary program. When you enter the correct flag in the format FUSec2025{....}, the program will print out a confirmation message and wake up the sleeping “core”. But it is not easy: the input data will be encrypted in a special way by some basic cryptographic algorithm before being compared with a pre-encrypted mystery string.